Please read the competition criteria carefully and review the official jury forms found on the www.iidafla.org website. We encourage you to enter more than one project into the competition. In fact, there is a discounted entry fee for any additional projects. If you are not able to attend the event, you may still enter your project into the competition for an increased fee. Please refer to the Competition Registration Form. Remember the deadline for entries is January 18, 2008!
